

The Eleventh Kentucky district has been assigned, said today that he would call a meeting of the committee within a few days, when a date will be set for hearing the argument in the Kentucky contest. The committee is composed of six Republicans and three Democrats. While the argument may be heard before the holidays, it is more likely to go over until early in January. There is no business before the committee other than a formal report which is to be made on the Butler, S. C. case.

The committee today received the printed testimony taken in behalf of one of the contestants, John D. White. The testimony is voluminous, making at least as much as that collected by Hunter and Edwards. White is represented by Capt. C. C. Calhoun and former Senator Thurston, of Nebraska.

Yerkes For High Place.

A special to the Star from Norfolk, Va., says:

"It developed here this afternoon that the name of Internal Revenue John W. Yerkes, of Kentucky, will be presented to President Roosevelt in a few weeks for either a Cabinet position or a seat on the Supreme Court bench as successor to one of the justices soon to retire. This action in Yerkes' favor appears to be a concerted movement by high Southern Republicans."

Protection of the President.

According to talk among members of the Senate and House Judiciary Committees the session is likely to expire without the enactment into law of the bill of the late Senator Hoar for the protection of the President. The Democrats are strongly opposed to the measure as drafted, and there are many Republicans who question the advisability of extending its provisions to include members of the Cabinet and Foreign Ambassadors and Ministers. The indications are that a more moderate bill, providing drastic penalties only for assassination or assault of the President or Vice President, could be passed with comparatively little opposition, certainly without division on party lines and the Hoar Bill may be thus remodeled in committee.

Statehood Question.

There is renewed talk of the passage in the Senate of the Statehood Bill, which came over from the House at the last session. Several Senate leaders think the present a good time to dispose of the Statehood question, and a measure drawn along the lines of the Spooner amendment has been placed on the calendar. The Senate is expected to agree upon in conference. The Spooner Bill provides for two States, thus combining Indian Territory with Oklahoma and New Mexico with Arizona. There is a provision that the two latter may resolve themselves into separate States when each has attained a certain population.

Knock Must Be Good.

The reading of the communication of Senator Knox from Gov. Pennington, of Pennsylvania, in the Senate yesterday attracted the attention of Senators on account of its peculiar wording. The office and its emoluments and privileges were conferred upon Mr. Knox upon the next meeting of the Legislature of the State with the understanding "if he shall so long behave himself well."

Opposes Sea Level Canal.

Senator Morgan, of Alabama, says the proposed sea level canal across the Isthmus of Panama is simply a scheme of the transcontinental railroads to delay canal legislation. Having secured the adoption of the Panama route, he says that of Nicaragua they are now trying to bring about a failure of the canal. The senator announces that he will oppose any legislation for a sea level canal.

Chief Engineer Wallace, of the Canal Commission, is understood to have decided to recommend this method of building the canal. The Republican members of the committee favor it, and the statement is made that it may not be necessary to have further legislation on the subject. There is said to be little good engineering authority for a sea level canal. The majority members of the committee claim, however, that such a canal can be constructed in about the same length of time, twelve years, and will cost about $50,000,000 less.

The members of Congress who visited the isthmus last month say there is a great deal of friction among the officers of the commission, especially between Rear Admiral Walker and Chief Engineer Wallace.

Army Maneuvers Criticized.

Considerable dissatisfaction is expressed by members of Congress at the way the recent army maneuvers were conducted at Manassas, Va. Members of the two military committees seem to think too much money was spent for what they consider the little good done the troops participating. On the whole the members believe properly conducted maneuvers beneficial.

Reduction Bill in House.

Representative Morrell, of Pennsylvania, today introduced a bill repealing the act of Congress which reduced the salaries of the several States. It reduces the South's Congressmen nineteen votes.

be in the possession of Mr. Reynolds today. Mr. Reynolds is at present in New York, but a summons in the case has been served at his residence in this city. Referee Remington has issued an injunction restraining Reynolds from transferring or disposing of the securities.

Prosecutors, Seale, of this county, and Prosecutor Stroup, of Lorain county, had a conference today regarding the case. The case was referred to the alleged forged notes which were held by Mr. Cassie L. Chadwick and which the district attorney had seized from the Oberlin Citizens National Bank. The conference related principally to the matter of jurisdiction, and it was decided to take up the case in Lorain county. President Beckwith and Cashier Spear have been subpoenaed to testify before the special grand jury, which will meet to-morrow at Elyria.

Both prosecutors say they are determined to vigorously prosecute any infraction of the State laws in the Chadwick case.

Photograph of $250,000 Note.

The correspondent of the Associated Press today was shown a photograph copy of the famous note for $250,000 drawn in favor of C. L. Chadwick and signed "Andrew Carnegie." The photograph copy and the plates from which it was made are in the possession of District Attorney Sullivan. A feature of this note is the fact that the date, figures and signature are all in the same handwriting, while the words "two hundred and fifty thousand dollars" were evidently written by another person. Following is the exact wording of the note:

"New York, Jan. 7, 1904—One year after date I promise to pay to the order of C. L. Chadwick two hundred and fifty thousand dollars at my office in New York City for value received, with interest at 5 per cent."

The back of the note is indorsed the name "C. L. Chadwick." It may be stated that the signature, which is the name of the note as written is different in several respects from the published fac-similes of Mr. Carnegie's signature.

JEWELS WORTH $110,000

Obtained by Mrs. Chadwick on Credit From New York House.

New York, Dec. 7.—It was learned today that Mrs. Chadwick obtained $110,000 of jewelry on credit from Thomas A. Chadwick, jeweler of New York City, last winter, and that the firm has made efforts for several months to get this jewelry or its money equivalent back from her. It was learned that the loan, which was made recently, it is said, and her obligation now amounts to about $25,000.

Robert Kirkpatrick, the credit man of the firm, verified the report that this money was secured from Mrs. Chadwick. He said the firm's buyer had been to Cleveland and recovered the jewelry. John Kirkpatrick, brother of the creditor, was asked whether it was true that Mrs. Chadwick had used the names of either Mrs. John D. White or Mrs. John A. Crawford in securing credit. He said: "She did not use either Mrs. Rockefeller or Mrs. Astor. Whether she used these names I am not at liberty to present to say."

Tried To Borrow In Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 7.—It was learned today that Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick made an effort to borrow money in Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday. She was refused, but she fled because she was unable to satisfy Mr. Ferguson as to the matter of the purchase of the loan. Mrs. Chadwick showed the attorney a trust paper which on the face of it assured the holder of a large amount of money. There was no name on the paper nor anything to indicate where the trust fund had come from or what securities were held by the trust.

MR. EACHES PROBABLY WILL MOVE TO COLORADO.

Has Had An Offer From Colorado Springs Company That He Is Likely To Accept.

Bowing Eaches, the well-known broker, who recently filed a deed of assignment, is now in Colorado Springs, where he will probably locate permanently. Mr. Eaches has had a splendid offer from the Reed Investment Company of Colorado Springs, and the trip which he is now taking to that city is for the purpose of looking into the opening offered him. If he finds that the proposition is as good as they have been represented to him, he will locate in that city, moving his family there.

Mrs. Eaches is in Anchorage. She said last night that her husband would remain in Colorado Springs for about three weeks, and she thought it probable that he would remove to that place to make his home in the future.

FINED FOR KEEPING A GAMBLING HOUSE.

Richard Canfield and Dave Bucklin Plead Guilty In Order To Protect Their Patrons.

New York, Dec. 7.—Richard A. Canfield and David Bucklin, respectively proprietor and manager of what was said to be the most exclusive gambling house in this country, were indicted by the grand jury today on the charge of maintaining a gambling house at 4 East Forty-fourth street. They were taken before Judge Cowing and pleaded guilty to the indictments.

Canfield's house is situated next door to the city's most fashionable restaurant and all his patronage came from the wealthy men in the city. For years it was impossible to obtain evidence against him because no one was permitted to the house except persons known personally to Canfield or Bucklin or vouched for by one of the regular patrons of the house. District Attorney Jerome several months ago began a determined effort to secure the necessary evidence to bring a case against the house. He succeeded in securing the necessary evidence to bring a case against the house. He succeeded in securing the necessary evidence to bring a case against the house.

NEW TRIAL

Granted Thomas Fletcher By Appellate Court.

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED FOR THE MURDER OF DALTON BURDINE, OF LOUISVILLE.

COURT'S OTHER OPINIONS.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 7.—[Special.]—The Appellate Court today reversed the judgment of the Jefferson Criminal Court sentencing Thomas Fletcher, colored, to be hanged for murder, and remanded the case to the lower court for another trial. The whole case was considered the appeal. Judge O'Rear, delivered the opinion of reversal.

Fletcher was indicted, tried and convicted in the court below of the murder of Dalton Burdine, a young white man. The crime was committed October 4, 1903, on the river front at the foot of Preston street in the city of Louisville. Fletcher stabbed Burdine in the heart with a pocket knife, killing him almost instantly. On the day of and just previous to the tragedy, young Burdine, together with a number of boys from the East Club, were playing a game of pool on the river. Some negro boys near the yards of the Pacific Coal Company began throwing pieces of coal at the boat. The boys put the stone and gave chase to the negroes. They fled to the house of a negro woman, Fanny Rawlings, upon which Fletcher took part in it and stabbed Burdine. In reversing the judgment of the court, over objection of appellee, the court held that the evidence was not sufficient to sustain the verdict. The most serious error in the record, and the one upon which we feel compelled to reverse judgment, is that the court, over objection of the jury, in rebuttal and after the defendant's evidence in chief had been closed, permitted the prosecution to introduce evidence as to the effect to be given testimony by the Police Officers Moran and Ford, where, in their testimony, they stated that they saw Fletcher take part in the crime.

The court also amended the instructions and rules on certain testimony.

Bass, wife of the Lexington contractor who murdered Martha McQuinn Martin, and the attorneys engaged in the defense of the condemned murderer, have undertaken a canvass for signers to a petition asking a commutation of sentence for her husband. At one time he feigned insanity and secured a reversal of his conviction. He has written letters to all the ministers asking their aid in his behalf.

MOTION

For Dismissal of Defendants In Gillespie Case

TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT.

THE PROSECUTION CLAIMS IT HAS NEW EVIDENCE.

INTEREST STILL UNABATED.

Rising Sun, Ind., Dec. 7.—The four persons whose trial last May for the murder of Miss Elizabeth Gillespie resulted in a disagreement were again brought into court for trial today, a special venire of 200 jurors having been ordered Monday, when both prosecution and defense announced their readiness to proceed with the trial. Only twenty-five takersmen reported today, the others being directed to appear to-morrow, which is the first anniversary of the murder of Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, who was shot and killed on the night of December 8, 1903, while standing at a window in her own home. James Gillespie, twin brother of the murdered woman; her sister, Mrs. Belle Seward, and Mr. and Mrs. Barbour, distant relatives, were indicted for the murder.

The prosecution claimed to have secured new evidence, and announced that all witnesses who appeared at the first trial would again be present. The excitement over the case has in no wise abated, and fears have been expressed that it may be impossible to secure a jury within the limits of the county.

The case was called by Judge Nicholas Cornett, acting for Judge Downing, who is in Florida. John B. Coles, for the defendants, moved to discharge the defendants, and immediately arguments were submitted on the motion.

After hearing the argument for the dismissal and the answer by the prosecution Judge Cornett took the plea under advisement and will render his decision to-morrow.

GERMAN PAPERS ARE A LITTLE BIT CYNICAL.

One of Them Says the President Is Trying To Harmonize Cannon and Ethics.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—President Roosevelt's statements in his message to Congress concerning the increase of the United States Navy preserving order in the Latin-American republics and insisting upon the "peace of justice" are considered by the newspapers as denigrating the American aim in relation to other countries more clearly than ever before. Those portions of the message are treated as including the development of the United States as a first-class naval power with all its consequences regarding the Western hemisphere. "Although," as one paper remarks, "it is not easy to harmonize cannon and ethics, the President is hard to do so." Contrasts are drawn between the arbitration treaties being negotiated by the United States and the gun foundries were never so busy. The prevailing tone of the editorial is a recognition of the fact that the United States is entering upon serious work in Central and South America, with an occasional cynical remark.

BANDIT'S BULLET WAS FATAL TO MESSENGER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 7.—The chances of bringing to justice the men who shot Messenger Roberts and looted the Wells Fargo safe of $300 on the Santa Fe train at Durango, Cal., were materially lessened by the death of Roberts, who never recovered sufficiently to furnish more than a very meager description of the bandits. Two suspects, a negro named Williams and a white man, named Fitzpatrick, are under arrest.

"After doctoring for a year and finding no relief from leucorrhoea resulting from prolapsus uteri, and which was sapping my life forces away, I finally tried Peruna, and when I found that it was helping me every day, it seemed almost too good to be true.

A Message to Suffering Women.

Mrs. Mattie Kline, 124 W. Bremer st., Cadillac, Mich. writes: "I have been suffering from catarrhal diseases, especially pelvic catarrh, for several years. I have tried many remedies, but nothing has helped me. I am now enjoying the best of health. I am strong and free from pain, and I certainly feel that all praise and honor are due to Peruna."

"My physician said that I ought to be operated upon, but I strongly objected to it, and one of my friends advised me to try Peruna.

"I am pleased to say that this medicine saved me from a painful operation and restored me to perfect health in less than three months."

"I am very much pleased with the good your medicine has done me, and I trust that many suffering women may be benefited through the use of Peruna."

Mattie Kline.

If all of the many suffering women scattered throughout the United States would take the above simple and direct testimonials to heart and follow the example of these women, no pen could describe the benefit that would follow.

There are so many women, especially married women, who drag themselves wearily around from day to day, from year to year with catarrh of the pelvis organs, little realizing what the exact nature of their ailments is.

They are miserable beyond description. They are nervous, tired and debilitated every day.

For this class of sufferers Peruna is the most perfect remedy in existence.

WITH WARRANTS

AGAINST HIM, PRISON SENTENCE AHEAD, NEGRO DIES.

Buck Williams Had Dodged Federal Officers Many Times and Many Years.

Buck Williams, a negro, sixty years of age, died at the City Hospital yesterday morning after a long illness of consumption and thus prevented the execution of a warrant charging him with "moonshining" in Tennessee and probably saved himself a long sentence in the United States prison. Williams was wanted on several warrants, all charging the illegal making of whiskey, and efforts have been made to locate him during the past three years.

Williams was admitted to the City Hospital July 27, suffering from consumption. A short time after his admission the Federal authorities learned that he was wanted in Tennessee and immediately sent for his arrest. This was forwarded, but before it reached Louisville became void by the limitation law. Knowing that Williams was seriously ill and could not leave the hospital, the authorities sent for a second warrant about six weeks ago. At the same time they notified the Tennessee authorities that Williams was about to die, but a second warrant was issued and arrived in Louisville a few days ago.

When the papers arrived, however, Williams was unconscious and his death hourly expected, and he was finally held until he should improve, although the hospital authorities were notified to hold him. Williams' death took place without the fact of the warrant being in Louisville being divulged to him.

Thirty years ago Williams was known all over the western part of Tennessee for his extensive and bold operations as a moonshiner. Several efforts were made to arrest him, and he was finally captured and sent to the Federal prison for a short term. He soon returned to his home in Tennessee, where his incarceration was attacked by the disease which caused his death. Despite this fact, he resumed operations and was again captured by United States marshals again began chasing him through Tennessee mountains. He sought hiding places which could not be discovered, however, until three years ago, when he was surrounded in the company of a number of white "shiners" and, after a desperate fight, succeeded in making his escape, although his companions were arrested.

Williams came to Louisville and worked as a laborer in several places living during the time at 708 Congress street, where he was found dangerously ill from consumption by Dr. William A. Keller, Jr., the City Physician, who ordered him removed to the City Hospital. Williams died at the age of 60 at the time of his death, and although at one time a powerful built man, was little more than a skeleton at the time of his death.

FUNERAL TO-DAY OF MRS. EMILY P. SIZEMORE.

Her Death a Cause of Much Regret—An Active Church Life.

The funeral of Mrs. Emily P. Sizemore, whose death occurred Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at her home, 1000 Sixth street, will be held at the Walnut street Baptist church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Sizemore's death was due to a general breakdown, superinduced by a fall sustained about three years ago, since which time she had been a cripple and gradually declining. She became seriously ill a week ago, and from the first there was little hope held for her recovery.

Mrs. Sizemore was the wife of the Rev. E. C. Sizemore, a well-known Baptist minister, who, though he has not been in charge of a church for several years, has filled the pulpits of the various Baptist churches here and at other points in the State and is popular. She is survived by her husband, four sons and two daughters. The Rev. Messrs. A. V. Sizemore, O. C. Sizemore and M. M. Sizemore, of this city, and R. H. Sizemore, of Clinton. The daughters are Mrs. Octavia Cooper, of Bearden, Tenn., and Miss Irma Sizemore, who resides at the family residence.

Mrs. Sizemore was sixty-six years old, and was a daughter of Col. John Greenleaf, who was a leading citizen of Louisville. She came to Louisville with her husband and family fourteen years ago. She was a devout and active member of the Walnut street Baptist church, and was widely known as a Christian woman. The burial will be in Eastern cemetery.

TO STOP

Promiscuous Carrying of Deadly Weapons.

SELLING THEM TO MINORS

ALSO UNDER BAN BY BOARD OF PUBLIC SAFETY.

NO FREE WATER TO BE GIVEN.

Carrying concealed deadly weapons and selling such weapons to minors are to be stopped by the police department under orders from the Board of Public Safety, which were issued yesterday to Col. Sebastian Gunther, the Chief of Police. Harry M. Brennan, chairman of the board, directed the attention of the chief to the Kentucky statutes governing the carrying of concealed weapons, and directed him to enforce them strictly, regardless of who is hurt. Col. Gunther will direct the men on the force to be especially watchful for violations of the law, and every man found with a revolver on his person will be arrested.

The law against selling pistols to minors will also be strictly enforced, and any firm or individual selling a deadly weapon to a minor will be arrested. The law directs that a person must be twenty-one years of age before he can purchase a revolver, and this will be enforced. Col. Gunther will also direct that none of the stores which handle revolvers sell them to minors. The chief will also try to stop the practice, which has become common, of men carrying revolvers. Regarding the order, Mr. Brennan said yesterday:

"On account of the numerous cutting and shooting scrapes which have taken place recently in Louisville, the board decided that the practice of carrying concealed weapons is becoming too common. I have directed the attention of the Chief of Police to the laws regulating the carrying of weapons and have further directed that he should direct the men on the force to arrest every man who is known to have a pistol concealed about his person. We will try to break up the carrying of revolvers. This practice is responsible for many of the difficulties with which the police have to contend, and if the law is strictly enforced the police will have less trouble with offenders. I have also directed that the stores be investigated and a sale of weapons to young boys stopped."

NO FREE WATER.

Drouth Victims Will Have To Pay For Filling Cisterns.

No free water will be distributed by the Louisville Water Company to families in Louisville who have dry cisterns. Charles R. Long, the president of the company, said yesterday afternoon:

"The company cannot discriminate in this way and cannot give to one person something for which money is taken from another person. If any cisterns are filled by the Water Company the water will be bought just as it has always been, by the person owning the cistern. This company has no authority to give away water and not to give it away. When the committee from the General Council calls on me I will say that we have no power to accede to their request for free water, and as they are reasonable men I think they will understand that the request cannot be complied with."

The upper board of the General Council at the meeting Tuesday night directed the Gas and Water Committee to call on Mr. Long and request him to furnish water free of cost to all persons whose cisterns are empty as a result of the long drouth. The committee will call on the president of the company to-day.

OLLIE MOORE REMOVED.

Board of Public Safety Dismisses Him For Assault.

Ollie Moore, a guard at the workhouse, was removed from his position by the Board of Public Safety yesterday afternoon, after an investigation of the charges filed against him by his fellow prisoners in the workhouse. The board decided that Moore should not have struck Russ and should not have taken on himself the punishment of the prisoner for any misconduct, which he was guilty. The board appointed Louis Vent to the vacant position. Russ, who was a prisoner in the workhouse, accused Moore of striking him with a club and breaking his left arm, and as a result of the blow he had struck Russ, but said he did it because the latter called him a d--n liar.

Do Not Want Saloons.

Remonstrances against saloons which are proposed to be opened at 1500 Duneson street, and 2100 West Walnut street, were filed yesterday with the License Board and will be heard at a meeting which has been called for to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Joseph Heuen, who owns the property at 1500 Duneson street, wants to open a saloon, but the neighbors object. They say the saloon is not needed and will not improve the neighborhood. Robert J. Cope wants the saloon on Walnut street in both cases. He is one of the registered voters of the precinct have signed the protests, so it is almost certain that both applications will be refused.

Patrolman Resigns.

Edward F. King, a patrolman, handed his resignation to the Board of Public Safety yesterday. It will take effect on January 1. He will go into business for himself at that time.

DANGER

Seen In Decrease of Theological Students.

CLERGYMEN GETTING SCARCE.

YOUNG MEN SEE OPPORTUNITIES IN OTHER FIELDS.

LOUISVILLE NOT AFFECTED.

The meeting in New York last week of twenty-five leading educators of the United States to discuss the lack of clergymen and the falling off in the number of students taking theological courses, has aroused widespread interest. Eastern newspapers have taken the subject up and are compiling opinions from various cities with a view to ascertaining the truth of the reported conditions.

Whether or not there has been a decrease in the enrollment in other institutions, these in Louisville are still maintaining the standard, in point of attendance of former years. It is said that the many opportunities held forth to young men in the commercial world is one of the great factors in the diverting into other channels young men who might be claimed by the ministry.

The Rev. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, says that Louisville is not included in the list of cities in which the attendance is falling off, but gives reasons for this condition of affairs in other quarters, and outlined several plans which might avert the danger.

Dr. Mullins' Statement.

Dr. E. Y. Mullins says:

"In the seminary with which I am connected we have not yet experienced a falling off in attendance or scarcity of students, such as is complained of in various parts of the country. Our attendance in the session of 1900-1 was 232, for that of 1901-2 it was 243, for that of 1902-3 it was 253, for the session of 1903-4 it was 273, the enrollment for the session of 1904-5 is not yet completed. We have enrolled up to date 233 students. We expect to receive not less than thirty-five or forty more within the next two months, which will probably make the attendance equal to that of last year.

"This would seem to indicate that as yet the number of candidates for the ministry is not seriously decreasing with us. While the greater portion of our students are from the South, about 25 per cent. of them are from the Northern States every year.

Causes of Decrease.

"Regarding the sections where there is a falling off in attendance the following may be named, in my opinion, among the causes:

"First—The commercial opportunity of the times attracting young men into the ministry. Second—The large number of young men who are attracted to the calling of the ministry who would otherwise enter the ministry.

"Third—The failure of parents and pastors to induce their sons and congregations to lay the claim of the ministry upon the minds of young men.

"Fourth—A fourth reason, which has sometimes been alleged, is the lack of freedom in the ministry. The necessity for subscribing to creeds, etc. I do not believe that this is a serious obstacle. In the great majority of the Protestant denominations, at least, there are no such trammels as would hinder the best young men from entering the ministry.

Possible Remedies.

"Among the remedies which I would suggest for this situation would be the following:

"First—More attention should be devoted to the subject in the churches. Second, we have no power to accede to their request for free water, and as they are reasonable men I think they will understand that the request cannot be complied with."

BLOW NOT CAUSE

OF WILLIAM E. NIMAN'S DEATH FROM PARALYSIS.

Coroner's Autopsy Results In Conclusion Exculpating Fred Stephan.

The blow dealt by Fred Stephan did not cause the death of William E. Niman, of the Salvage Corps, which occurred at the home of his sister, Mrs. Richard Johnson, 940 Sixth street, early yesterday morning. This fact was established by an autopsy held by Coroner Kelly, assisted by the City Hospital staff, yesterday morning.

Niman's death followed a stroke of paralysis suffered forty-eight hours after he had been struck on the head by Fred Stephan, at that time a member of the Salvage Corps, but who was suspended when Capt. Duffy learned of the difficulty several days after it occurred. In the autopsy held yesterday morning there was no evidence to indicate that Niman's condition was caused by the blow. There was no fracture of the skull or indication of a concussion. Coroner Kelly is positive that the paralytic stroke was the result of disease and that the blow received by Niman was in no manner responsible for his death. An incision into the right side of the brain revealed the hemorrhage which was responsible for the fatal stroke.

The funeral services will be held at the residence of C. L. Niman, 2339 Portland avenue, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and the burial will be in Cave Hill cemetery. The pallbearers will be selected from among the Salvage Corps and from the general public.

Ran Away From Home.

Isadore Sector, a fourteen-year-old boy, was taken in custody yesterday morning by Detectives Duffy and Walker. They found him trying to dispose of a watch under suspicious circumstances. The boy, when questioned, said his father is C. Sector, a well-known whiskey dealer, of Indianapolis, Ind., and that he ran away from home. The Indianapolis authorities were notified and the boy is being held pending an investigation and instructions from his parents.

After authorizing the issuance of a year book for 1905, taking action on the auditorium project, hearing reports and admitting several new members, the directors of the Commercial Club yesterday adjourned to meet again Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
